

Mr. Editor:—I have no doubt that the readers of the Intelligencer will perceive from your selections of news matter for this week, that the Legislature of the State, which was convened by Gov. Gist for the purpose of electing Electors of President and Vice President of the United States, have not only discharged that duty, but in view of the election of Mr. Lincoln to the Presidency, which is now ascertained to be the fact beyond doubt, have gone on further to provide for the call of a Convention of the State. The object of this Convention, as your readers will be advised in due time, will be to take into consideration our Federal relations, and determine for the State of South Carolina whether in the future she will remain in this Union upon terms of inequality with the other States of this Confederacy, or whether she will establish her independence out of it. Your readers cannot fail to perceive that the Convention thus called will be saddled with graver responsibilities than have ever been devolved upon any other Convention hitherto assembled in the State. The Senate, as we have learned, fixed the day of the election of delegates to this Convention on the 8th of January next, and the meeting of the Convention on the 15th of the same month. It seems to be the impression that the House of Representatives will insist upon precipitating the election upon the people of the State at a much earlier day than that adopted by the Senate, and that the Senate will agree to it. If so, it is possible that this election, as important as it will be, will be had before the people shall be fully apprised that it has been ordered. It is to be hoped, however, that the time fixed by the Senate will be agreed upon, as that will afford our people sufficient time for reflecting upon the important considerations which must and ought to influence their choice of delegates to the Convention of the State. The election of Mr. Lincoln to the Presidency of the United States has been a just cause of alarm to the people of the South, and they cannot fail to perceive in it an unmistakable evidence of the ascendancy of a party bent upon the destruction of their property, and their equality as sovereign and independent States. It is now apparent to every man in the land that the time has come when the people of the South, not the cotton States alone, but the fifteen slaveholding States must determine definitely and forever whether they are willing to give up the institution of slavery, and remain in the Union, or whether they will form a Southern Confederacy, and protect themselves and their property out of the Union. This is the issue, and there is no mistaking it. The course of political events for the last eight or ten years have more forcibly impressed the public mind than this is the alternative to which they have been driven, than the whole history of the anti-slavery agitation prior to that time. The manner in which the election of Mr. Lincoln has been received all over the Southern States, the profound sensation which it has created everywhere, is confirmation strong as need be, that the South are becoming aroused to the dangers which threaten their future. Now is the time for them to say whether they do not believe the formation of a Southern Confederacy is the only means of protecting themselves and their institutions for the future. Alabama was the first to declare that the principles upon which she had affiliated with the National Democratic party were subordinate in dignity and importance to the great question of slavery. She took the lead in separating this from all other questions, and giving it its paramount importance in the struggle which has just terminated so disastrously for the South. It was her position upon this subject in the National Democratic Convention that divided the Democratic party and precipitated the election of a Black Republican President upon the country four years sooner than it might have otherwise happened. Will she, then, in the hour of trial be untrue to the position which she has assumed for herself in this great struggle. As a Southern man, and a resistance man, and a resistance man with the cooperation of one or more of our Southern sisters, because I believe it is the only effectual mode of resistance, I hope and trust she will never falter. I trust for the sake of the South and her institutions, that Alabama will continue true to her position to the last: and now that Lincoln is elected, that she will declare in a convention of the State that she is ready and willing to unite with any of her sisters in dissolving the government of this Union. South Carolina is now ready and willing to go, and always has been. She has only asked the co-operation of those who are wronged in common with herself, and whose destinies are hers beyond the power of human control. In the judgment of your humble correspondent, the other Southern States ought not to appeal to South Carolina to take the lead in the measures of resistance, they desire to see inaugurated, because the State has once passed upon the propriety of its doing so, and her people have condemned it. But if the State shall determine in the election of delegates to the Convention now ordered, that the prospects of a co-operation of one or more of the Southern States is greater now than in 1851, and that she is now willing for this reason to reverse her policy settled then, by seceding from this Union alone, then, as a citizen of the State, I shall cling to her in adversity as I have done in prosperity. LUCIUS.

How STANDS THE CASE?—Since 1850 two more free States—Minnesota and Oregon—have been admitted, giving the North a Senatorial majority of six. Kansas will be admitted this next winter which will increase the majority to eight. Should "Honest Old Abe's" administration go on smoothly, Nebraska, Washington, Chippewa, Idaho, Nevada and Arizona will be added to the free list, making a Senatorial majority of twenty against the slave States, and a majority against them of perhaps 110 in the House.

The question, therefore, of Union or disunion, will have to be settled with Lincoln's election, because acquiescence on the part of the Southern States in this administration will soon result in such an accumulation of Northern anti-slavery strength in every department of the government as to render any subsequent Southern secession movement, under any provocation, utterly foolish and impotent. The position of the Southern States will be like that of the Italian States after the European peace of 1815. They will be put completely under the thumb of their Northern masters.

The simple truth is, that in submitting to Lincoln's election, the South must be content to prepare deliberately for the abolition of slavery from Delaware to Texas. This is exactly what this thing means. The will and the power will be given, with Lincoln's election, to a party founded upon this "one idea," and pledged to this work; and they will do it.—New York Herald.

Legislative Proceedings.

We publish the proceedings of the first four days in this issue, and next week will continue to give the action of the Legislature complete up to this time. The session which has just closed contains too much of interest for curtailing the reports a great deal, and we prefer waiting for the purpose of giving the proceedings entire.

Pursuant to notice, a meeting of the citizens of Anderson and vicinity was held in the Court House this evening at 7 o'clock. Gen. S. M. Wilkes was called to the Chair, and James A. Hoyt requested to act as Secretary.

The Chairman explained the object of the meeting in a few pertinent remarks. He thought that the prime object was to form a company of volunteers or minute men, but felt assured that the meeting would be pleased to hear from distinguished gentlemen present on the politics of the day, and the great issues now before the people of the South.

Hon. R. F. Simpson, Hon. James L. Orr, Hon. J. W. Harrison and Hon. J. P. Reed addressed the meeting. [We give a short synopsis of their views in another column.]

At the close of these speeches, Mr. James A. Hoyt offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That in the judgment of this meeting the South must resist the inauguration of a sectional candidate in the Presidential chair, and to remain in this Union after such inauguration, is to submit to principles subversive of our dearest rights and interests.

Resolved, That we approve of the action of the Legislature in calling a Convention of the people of this State, to take measures for prompt resistance to Black Republican rule by secession from this Union.

Resolved, That we will abide the action of that Convention, and support whatever measures may be determined on for resistance.

After the passage of the resolutions, Col. Orr stated that he understood one of the objects of this meeting to be the formation of a volunteer corps to tender their services to the Governor, if necessary, and he desired to enrol his name as a member of such company. Upon that understanding, about thirty gentlemen announced their desire to become members.

On motion, it was

Resolved, That the Anderson Intelligencer and Gazette be requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting.

On motion, the meeting then adjourned.

SAM'L M. WILKES, Ch'n.

JAMES A. HOYT, Secretary.

Federal Officers Resigning.

Senator CHESNUT sent in his resignation to the Legislature on Saturday, and it is stated that Senator HANCOCK will adopt the same course.

Judge MORGAN, District Attorney COCKER and Mr. COLCOCK, Port Collector at Charleston, resigned their positions when the news of Lincoln's election reached them.

PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, it is proper and becoming a people who acknowledge the hand of God in every event, and bow in reverence to His will, and who desire to imitate the noble example of their forefathers, not only in resistance to oppression and injustice, but in supplication for Divine aid and counsel in this momentous crisis of our country's history, to implore a continuance of His favor and interposition to protect and sustain us in all the trials we may be called upon to undergo, and the dangers to which we may be exposed. Now, therefore, I, WILLIAM H. GIST, Governor of the State of South Carolina, in obedience to a resolution of the General Assembly, appointing WEDNESDAY, the 21st instant, as a day of Fasting, Humiliation and Prayer, make this my proclamation, inviting the clergy and people of all denominations in this State to assemble at their respective places of worship, to implore the direction and blessing of Almighty God in this our hour of difficulty, and to give us one heart and one mind to oppose, by all just and proper means, every encroachment upon our rights.

Given under my hand and the seal of the State, at Columbia, on the 13th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty. WILLIAM H. GIST.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Clerk.

We are authorized to announce Capt. H. R. VANDIVER as a candidate for Clerk of the Court at the next election.

The friends of Col. F. A. HOKE announce him a candidate for Clerk of the Court for Anderson District at the next election.

The many friends of ELIJAH WEBB, Esq., would announce him as a candidate for Clerk of the Court for Anderson District at the next election.

To the Voters of Anderson District:

"MAY FRIENDS" have announced my name as a candidate for Clerk of the Court at the ensuing election, and it is due to them, as well as to the voters of the District generally, that I should make a response to the announcement. At the close of my last canvass, I stated publicly that I did not expect to be again a candidate, and my purpose remained unshaken until December last, when my situation was in many respects greatly changed—owing to my misfortune, which is known to the District.

I was born and reared in this District, and am, perhaps, the oldest citizen of this town—have always resided here, and hope that my bones may repose in her soil. I have received many favors from my fellow-citizens, and have tried to discharge the trust they have so long confided to me with courtesy, zeal and strict fidelity. My past services and performance in the office is the best guarantee I can offer the District for a faithful discharge of its duties in the future. Many voters, therefore, and my friends generally, are authorized to use my name as a candidate for re-election.

ELIJAH WEBB.
